

My grandmother has been taking care of my siblings and I since we were born. Every morning, grandma has always prepared my favourite dishes. She has been guiding me through my school homework since I was a P1 student. Her English is not good but she tries her best.

A few weeks ago, grandma became very sick. My dad told me that she had cancer and it was serious. I know grandma has always been worrying about my exam results so I will try my very best for the exams this year and make her proud . I hope that grandma will be able to watch me grow up to be a successful man. I love you so much, my Ah Ma.
